

2016 Census of Population and Housing: Submission Form for Content or Procedures, 2016

Before completing this form

Pre-submission reading: Before making a submission, please read the following information paper Census of Population and Housing: Consultation on Content and Procedures, 2016 \(cat. no. 2007.0\). This paper sets out initial proposals from the ABS on content and procedures for the 2016 Census and invites comment from the public.

Preparing your submission: Submissions for the inclusion of a new topic or the modification of an existing topic require detailed justification against the following criteria to facilitate assessment:

- The topic is of current national importance.
- There is a current need for data on the topic for small population groups and/or at the small area level.
- There are no other suitable alternative data sources available for the topic.
- The topic is suitable for inclusion in the Census.
- There is likely to be a continuing need for data on the topic in the following Census.

If you wish to make a submission on any aspect of the Census, you will need to complete the following form. A separate submission will be required for each topic or aspect of the Census you wish to address.

We advise that you look at the questions being asked and prepare your submission before starting your form. The on-line submission form does not have a save function. Therefore once you start you will need to complete it, or start over if you exit out of the form, unless you have saved your content in another location.

Need for Assistance

Q9. Please define the topic and/or describe modifications you are proposing to this topic for the 2016 Census.*

Need for assistance

GSAG understands that the Need for Assistance sections of the Census (questions 20 to 23 in the 2011 Census) are currently up for review in terms of the importance of each particular question and also that there are now new recommendations on disability questions suitable for Censuses that would require the addition to and testing of several questions for the 2016 Census. GSAG considers these questions together with the unpaid work questions are very important in its labour market analysis by gender, particularly in relation to women's workforce participation, and the workforce participation of carers for the disabled, frail aged, or ill.

Also data on people who need assistance due to a severe or profound disability are required for developing federal and state government policies and community based programs, and for program and service delivery funding allocation. Detailed data at the small area level and for small population groups are particularly useful for this topic. Census data on this topic are used in the calculation of performance indicators for COAG reporting on the National Disability Agreement and monitoring progress on the progressive implementation of the National Disability Insurance Scheme ("DisabilityCare Australia"). For this reason, we strongly support the retention of the need for assistance questions.

GSAG understands that this topic identifies people who report a need for assistance due to a 'profound or severe core activity limitation'. GSAG also understands that due to the collection methodology and question format, the data should be taken as an indication of the characteristics of people who report a need for assistance rather than as the total population prevalence of people with a 'profound or severe core activity limitation'.

Q10. Criteria 1: The topic is of current national importance.***

Note: What specific purposes will the data be used for? Please consider the following when addressing this criteria:

- Uses in policy-making, long-term planning, social and economic applications.
- What benefits will flow from this data.
- The consequences if this topic was not included in the 2016 Census.
- In particular, please consider what activities could not take place or would be significantly reduced or degraded in quality.

Need for assistance

Census data on this topic are used in the calculation of performance indicators for COAG reporting on the National Disability Agreement and monitoring the progressive implementation of the National Disability Insurance Scheme ("DisabilityCare Australia")

Q11. Criteria 2: There is a current need for data on the topic for small population groups and/or at the small area level.***

Note: Please consider when addressing this criteria:

- At what geographic level will data from the topic be required?
- For which population groups will the data from the topic be required?

Please specify why the data would be useful at this level.

Need for assistance

Required for males and females in regional, rural and remote areas and also for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, Culturally and linguistically Diverse (CALD) populations by sex in these areas.

Q12. Criteria 3: There are no suitable alternative data sources available for the topic.***

Are there any alternative data sources available for the topic? If yes, please specify and consider the following in relation to these data sources when addressing this criteria.

- Why are these data sources not appropriate for the purposes indicated in the first criteria?
- Will these data sources provide high quality data for the entire population, and/or for small population groups and/or at the small area level?
- Name of alternative data source and organisation responsible if known.

Need for assistance

The ABS Survey of Disability Ageing and Carers does not provide robust estimates for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander populations and for populations in rural and remote areas.

Q13. Criteria 4: The topic is suitable for inclusion in the Census.***

Note: Please consider when addressing this criteria that Census topics should not:

- Upset people by invading their privacy to an unacceptable degree. The information you will get from such a topic would be subject to bias and will affect other data used and collected in conjunction with it.
- Be subjective (i.e. likely to have varying interpretations for individuals, such as "How would you rate your overall health status").
- Seek information which may not be generally known such as "where was your maternal grandmother born".
- Be complex to code or difficult to process. You should consider the way answers would need to be classified.
- Require people to remember things they are unlikely to be able to, for example "What was your income five years ago".
- Seek opinions or attitudes.
- Require more than one or two questions to obtain the required information.
- Require an overlong explanation or instructions to ensure an accurate answer. If the type of question needed cannot be understood with minimum of explanation, it is not suitable or appropriate for inclusion in the Census.

Need for assistance

This topic was included successfully in 2006 and 2011 Census.

Q14. Criteria 5: There is likely to be a continuing need for data on the topic in the following Census.***

Note: Please consider the following when addressing this criteria:

- Will there still be a need for data on this topic at the time of next Census in 2021, and into the future?

Need for assistance

This topic needs on-going monitoring into the future as the population ages and the numbers needing assistance grows. This is of particular interest for women who make up larger numbers in older age groups than men in that population and also women are the main carers and providers of the different types of assistance required. Linked with 'Unpaid Work' this topic becomes more important for women and labour force participation and therefore their lifelong economic security.

Q15. Please also consider the following points in relation to the topic and include in your submission*:

- What data output items will be required for the topic? (Please provide details of the output categories required and, if appropriate, ranges/descriptions for each category.)
- What cross-classifications will be needed with other Census topics?
- Could this topic be included on a 10-yearly cycle rather than a 5-yearly cycle?

Need for assistance

Same as 2006 and 2011 Census. Gender dissections mandatory.

Analysis must include details for small population groups: Aboriginal and Torres Islanders, Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD), and these populations in Rural and Remote geographic areas.

Q16. Is there any topic which you consider should be excluded from the 2016 Census?

Please select a response below :

No ▶ Go to question 19

Yes ▶ Go to next question

Q17. What is the name of the topic which you consider should be excluded from the 2016 Census?

Note: Please use the topic names listed in Census of Population and Housing: Consultation on Content and Procedures, 2016 (cat. no. 2007.0, if appropriate). Please specify other topics.

Q18. Why do you think that this topic should be excluded from the 2016 Census?

Q19. Would you like to provide any further comments on the proposals for the 2016 Census?

No

Q20. Would you like to attach a file to support your submission?

- Yes, I would like to attach a file
- No, I would not like to attach a file

Acknowledgement

Once the ABS has received your submission, we will send you or your organisation a letter of acknowledgement, either by post or email.

What happens after submissions close?

Following assessment of submissions, final recommendations on the nature and content of the 2016 Census will be discussed with the Australian Statistics Advisory Council (ASAC) in late 2013. The ABS will then make a submission to the Government, including recommendations on the nature and content of the 2016 Census. A decision on the content of the 2016 Census is expected to be known by the end of 2014. People who have provided submissions will be advised of the outcome.

Thank you for your interest in the 2016 Census
